CHAPTER XVII.
A TRAITOR TO THE CAUSE.
CAPTAIN ORSKOFF paced up and down the deck feverishly while the American ravenously ate his meal. Harvey, when he had finished, asked for a cigar.

"You are maddening!" said Orskoff as he handed the American a cigar. "One can see that you are not in love—not as I am."

"Sit down," said Harvey. They took chairs on deck.

"Getting excited is not going to help us any," said Harvey, puffing at his cigar. "I am as eager as you to rescue the girls. The difference is that you, without any plans, want to rush off and probably involve us in greater trouble, while I wish to plan out a line of action. Now, that boat went somewhere on the Bokharan coast—where, we do not know. The thing is to get what information we can out of the robbers."

"They would lie to us."

"I don't think the chief, Palpak, would lie. Except for my presence quite right—fight and die for the czar and to the devil with yourself; that's more like it. Let's look over the premises. Take my own case in a business sense. I don't know where my windmills are. They were taken to Astrakhan by that fool of a German. Well, supposing I was at liberty to go after them, the first thing I would do would be to outline a plan of getting as quickly as possible from where I am at this moment to the spot where I considered it most likely I would find them."

"I don't see the connection."

"No, of course not. But tell me—what is your duty in the matter of these robbers?"

"I have already stated that. I must take them to Tiflis and charge them with robbery. Several times the officers in charge of the money to pay the soldiers have been robbed. We suspected that it was done by some of the mountain robbers and mistrusted the Bokharans. But we could never catch any."

"That's because you are a machine soldier. The third section of your police does not work that way."

"What way?"

"Without thinking. Pardon me, you insist it is your duty to go at once to Tiflis?"

"Certainly, unless we can intercept that vessel belonging to the czar."

"Suppose we do not intercept it? Suppose the rascals make a port in Bokharan?"

"Then I must return to Tiflis and ask permission to enter the territory of the czar in search of Koura."

Harvey looked at him and whistled.

"My friend, you accused me a short time ago of not loving as you do. Yet you sit calmly here and say you would go to Tiflis to ask permission to rescue the girl you claim to love."

"I am a soldier of the czar!"

"Verily you are, and well have you learned your lesson. I am a soldier of commerce, and love it, but I would consider neither trade nor honor nor citizenship against the chance of saving the girl I love. To the device with a patriotism that destroys love. Orskoff, do your duty! If you feel that it is your duty to take me and the robbers to Tiflis, do so, and forever bid farewell to Koura Bialtelkis."

"But what can I do? The girls are by this time perhaps on Bokharan soil. It is against the orders of the czar for a Russian soldier to step foot in that country."

"Tiflis is several days' journey from here; Bokharan but a short distance. Somewhere, in the clutches of the Bokharans, are the girls you and I love. Your duty calls you to desert them in their need; mine calls upon me to die for them if necessary. Rather than let you take me back to Tiflis I'll fight you to the death."

Orskoff stared. Harvey turned and resumed his walk. He took several turns and closely watched Orskoff. The Russian was deeply thinking, his brow knitted in perplexity.

"Stop!" he commanded suddenly as Harvey reached him again. "You sell windmills. To no one save those who employ you do you owe allegiance.

"Stop!" he commanded suddenly. The other robbers would have killed him, and he must feel some gratitude."

"But these fellows are shrewd. We could do nothing with them unless we granted them their freedom."

"And that, of course, you would not do."

"No! I am an officer of the czar!"

"What do you intend to do with me?"

"It is my duty to return to Tiflis with you and give you over to the authorities."

"Just so. You are one of these machine-made soldiers so common in Russia—fight for the czar and die for yourself. Is that it? No; that isn't

You come and go as you see fit. You are shrewd and brave and take your wares to all countries and run risks of death to promote the commercial interests of the company. You have spoken of your love. Under the whiplash of your tongue I am torn in halves with the bitterest conflict of my life. I have led my company in battle and have faced the enemy without a tremor, but that is nothing compared to the hell that is surging in my breast now. In me, in this breast, there is a conflict that overshadows anything in my experience."

"I don't understand," said Harvey. "You would understand if you were a Russian officer and at the same time a man in love. Remember, I am performing my duty when I place you under arrest and take you back to Tiflis. You are a condemned prisoner who has escaped. With your innocence or guilt I have nothing to do. It is my duty to take those robbers to Tiflis, and it is not my duty to permit one of them to talk. Yet, as against this duty, the girl I love is in the hands of the Bokharans. You, the man who is most wanted in Tiflis, and these robbers are the only men on earth who can help me. For, once the girls are on Bokharan soil, I am helpless."

"Helpless?"

"I cannot stir regiments to cross the border. The order must come from St. Petersburg. By the time we get that order the girls will be married to the princes."

"That is what I have been striving to show you—the uselessness of your duty in this case. I claim your duty is to go after the girls."

"Impossible! There is a secret corps for such work. I am not a soldier once off Russian soil unless sent there."

"Who asked you to be a soldier? Come with me. Let us rescue the girls. Alma has really committed a crime, I suppose, but we must risk the danger of Tiflis. I'll take care of that part when we get the girls."

"You would try to escape—would even try to kill me to escape."

"Nonsense. If you will assist in rescuing the girls and let Alma Jurneff escape, I will go back to Tiflis with you and take my medicine."

"You would risk death and disgrace for the girl you love?"

"Yes. I'd risk hell for the girl I love."

"That is love! That is love! It is as I feel myself. Let me think! What a problem for a man to solve!"

He abruptly left Harvey, who sat down, preferring to let Orskoff work out the problem himself. Orskoff paced gravely up and down, never once looking at Harvey.

"Have you a plan?" he asked suddenly, stopping before Harvey.

"Give me your answer to the problem you have set out to solve, and I will give you the plan I have thought of."

Again that monotonous pacing up and down the deck. It seemed to Orskoff as though the Russian was growing older looking each moment. Again the feverish eyes and working lips. It came to an end at last. With a sigh as if exhausted Orskoff dropped into the chair by the side of Orskoff.

"Well, I have fought the fight," he said wearily.

"And won?" asked Harvey.

"No; God knows it is no victory! I have lost. My patriotism goes down before my love. I am a Russian. I know the Russian cruelties to those who defy the czar. I know the pitiless rule that breaks the hearts and destroys the lives of those who even permit a culprit to escape. Knowing this—knowing the punishment, the disgrace, the horror of treachery—I have resolved to become a traitor!"

"A traitor! What nonsense!"

"Yes, a traitor to the czar! You and I will soon be under the same condemnation. We will go together to the very throne of Bokharan if necessary and rescue those we love or die in the attempt. It is settled. I will not turn back."

MADE BOLD DASH

Russian Squadron Attempts to Escape From Port Arthur.

A GREAT NAVAL BATTLE

Report From Tokio Says That Admiral Togo Was In Waiting For Enemy's Ships.

Details of the Reported Battle Are Wholly Lacking—The Situation Elsewhere.

In the absence of developments at the front, interest at St. Petersburg centers in the disposition to be made of certain important civil and military officers. Rumor has it that Viceroy Alexieff has been reinstated in royal favor, and will, upon his return from the far East, become the actual director of Russia's foreign policy. Friends of General Kuropatkin are confident that he will be given at least temporary command of the two Manchurian armies. No news later than Sept. 5 has been received from Port Arthur. At the date given the garrison had been inspired by repulses of the Japanese. A Tokio report of a naval battle off Port Arthur yesterday lacks confirmation.

WAR AT ITS WORST

A Recent Incident of the Siege of Port Arthur.

Tokio, Oct. 6.—It is reported that the Russian squadron made a sortie from Port Arthur Wednesday and that a great naval battle occurred.

Harbin, Oct. 6.—It is reported that the Japanese advance posts have been driven back all along the line between the Hun river and Bensihi.

Chefoo, Oct. 6.—On Sept. 24-25 the Japanese made repeated and recklessly brave attempts to capture High hill at Port Arthur. Owing to the destruction of earthworks their advance was completely unprotected, and under the rays of the searchlight the Russian machine guns swept them down in masses. More troops, however, came on with fanatical bravery, leaping over the bodies of their dead comrades. Then the Russians, emboldened by their success, sorted. The Japanese replied with machine guns. It was the first time the Japanese had been able to entice the Russians from their shelters, and they worked terrible havoc among them.

The scene next morning was appalling. The hillside was strewn with mingled Russian and Japanese bodies, some of them gripped with ghastly realism. Boulders were trickling with blood.

WAR PARTY ASCENDANT

Alexieff and His Followers in High Imperial Favor.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 6.—A great deal of uncertainty exists concerning momentous changes with which the tongues of everybody have been busy in St. Petersburg ever since the formal announcement of the formation of a second Manchurian army. The delay in the announcement of a commander-in-chief of the Manchurian armies, which has been daily expected, is now said to be due to Emperor Nicholas' intention to wait until Viceroy Alexieff shall have started for St. Petersburg. The viceroy's return in a very short time is everywhere taken for granted and receives credence in the highest circles; but concerning the exact status he will occupy, there is great divergence of opinion. In the best informed quarters the belief is expressed that Alexieff's return does not mean his effacement, but that on the contrary the emperor will take occasion to bestow upon him unmistakable marks of his royal favor. His friends assert that he will become the emperor's adviser, not only on far Eastern affairs, but on all questions of foreign policy. Count Lamsdorff's administration of Russian foreign affairs was the subject of persistent criticism by a certain party, called the war party, before the war, and his recent successful efforts to secure concessions in the matter of the recognition of the rights of neutral commerce were obtained against some obstinately hostile and powerful influences. Consequently Count Lamsdorff's enemies freely predict that Alexieff will control the foreign office actually if not nominally. The friends of Count Lamsdorff, however, treat these reports as inventions of his ill-wishers. Nevertheless, the return to St. Petersburg of M. Bezobrazoff, who was secretary of the far Eastern committee before the war, simultaneously with Alexieff's return, may be fraught with great significance and may foreshadow the complete return to imperial favor of the influences in control before the war. As a matter of fact, however, those usually best informed admit that they are at sea as to what is actually impending, and in the absence of real authoritative information much of this talk may be merely irresponsible gossip.

VICTORY FOR LAFOLLETTE

Governor of Wisconsin Affirmed a "Regular" Candidate.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 6.—Governor Robert M. La Follette wins the supreme court decision in the Wisconsin Republican factional case. Three members of the court, Justices Winslow, Governor Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

Dodge and Marshall, agreed that the La Follette case was just, and that the stalwarts were not entitled to the decision. Chief Justice Cassaday dissented, but did not file any dissenting decision. The decision temporarily ends the bitter struggle between the "half breeds," led by La Follette, and the "stalwarts," led by Samuel A. Cook. It is confidently expected that the stalwart ticket will be withdrawn.

The Feeling in New York.

New York, Oct. 6.—The decision of the supreme court of Wisconsin declaring the La Follette ticket to be regular, was read with great interest by politicians in New York. The Republicans at national headquarters expressed themselves as satisfied, as they believed that the two factions will now support one ticket. At Democratic headquarters Timothy E. Ryan, member of the Democratic executive committee for Wisconsin, said he believed that the decision would secure the election of the Democratic state ticket and at least four members of congress.

Rhodes Scholarship Examinations. New York, Oct. 6.—Dr. George R. Parkin, representing the trustees of the Cecil Rhodes estate, has given notice that the next qualifying examinations for the Rhodes scholarships in the various estates will be held about the middle of January, 1905. This early date is fixed because it has been found impossible to distribute the selected scholars throughout the Oxford colleges with reference to their wishes if the examinations are held as late as March, as was the case in 1904.

Will Meet at Toledo.

East St. Louis, Oct. 6.—After considerable political maneuvering in the convention of the League of American Municipalities, Toledo, Ohio, was chosen as the place for the next annual meeting. The following officers were elected: President, W. P. Crolius of Joliet; first vice president, R. G. Rhett of Charleston, S. C.; treasurer, W. D. Morgan, Georgetown, S. C.; secretary, Joseph McVickers, Des Moines, Ia.

Huntsman Shot in Back.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 6.—Louis Sellbach, vice president of the Paul Schmidt company, wholesale liquor dealers in this city, was shot in the back and instantly killed yesterday afternoon while duck hunting at Oak Harbor, near Sandusky, on Lake Erie. Sellbach had been made a Democratic presidential elector Tuesday. He was very prominent in German circles.

Revenge for Liao Yang.

Mukden, Oct. 6.—General Kuropatkin has expressed a firm determination to avenge himself of this favorable season of the year for military action. Everything points to a coming revenge for Liao Yang. The officers and men hope that the period of retreat is past and that they will be led against the enemy.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The flood situation in the Chikassaw nation shows improvement.

All of the ten designs for the McKinley memorial are in the hands of the committee on design.

Louis E. Gosselin, auditor of Chicago, has been suspended on charges preferred by the comptroller.

A strong Portuguese force, including 225 Europeans, was ambushed by natives in West Africa and 100 are missing.

The strike of the woodworkers at Chicago, which has been in progress since last June, has ended. The strikers gained nothing.

The W. R. Jones Co., window glass company's plant, at Morgantown, W. Va., burned. Loss $65,000. The plant probably will not be rebuilt.

A cash bonus of $500,000, it is said, was one of the considerations which induced L. F. Loree to resign the presidency of the Rock Island road.

The will of Senator George F. Hoar makes no public bequests, dividing his property between his son and daughter, Rockwood Hoar and Miss Mary Hoar.

Several Hamburg-American steamers are about to take Welsh coal to Aden, Zanzibar and Singapore for coaling the warships of the Russian Baltic fleet.

Gov. John L. Bates will, in all probability, soon announce the appointment of Attorney General William R. Moody, of Haverhill, to succeed U. S. Senator George F. Hoar.

The plant of the National Refining Co., at Friday, O., was completely destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of upward of $500,000. The fire was caused by lightning striking a 50,000-barrel tank.

PEACE DEMANDED

International Congress Says

It Is Time For War to Cease.

RESOLVE AGAINST IT

Formal Resolutions Adopted by the Peace Congress Seek Reconciliation Between Beligerents.

Movement Set on Foot Looking to Friendly Intervention by the Powers.

Boston, Oct. 6.—Resolutions intended to bring about, if possible, an end to the Russo-Japanese war were adopted at the meeting of the International Peace Congress. By the terms of these resolutions the congress will address an appeal to the emperors of Russia and Japan to terminate the struggle, and each of the powers signatory to The Hague convention will be formally requested to press upon Russia and Japan the importance of putting an end to the present war.

It was also voted that the resolutions referring to friendly intervention by the powers be presented to President Roosevelt by a committee of the congress.

The resolutions were passed after a lengthy discussion in which many of the most prominent foreign delegates participated. During the discussion Delegate William R. Cremer of England took occasion, while favoring the declarations, to characterize the treaty between England and Japan as a blunder, and to charge that this treaty doubtless had much to do in bringing on the Russo-Japanese war. Thereupon Great Britain's policy of being a party to the treaty was vigorously defended by Colonel Bryce Jones, M. P.

The deliberative proceedings of the day took on an added interest from the fact that a leading Hindoo, Baba Bharati, was introduced to speak as the representative of his country. The most intense applause that has been evoked thus far during the convention greeted the Hindoo, who, dressed in the costume of his people, delivered a passionate speech in excellent English, denouncing on the one hand the attempt of Christianity to thrust Christianity upon India as its religion, and the policy of the English people of India invading Tibet.

It was voted during the session to refer the subject of a reconciliation of France and Germany on the Alsace-Lorraine question to the Berne bureau for study by a special committee.

EMISSION POISONED

Italian Government Has Cause for Action in the Congo.

Rome, Oct. 6.—Captain Baccari, who was sent by the Italian government to the Congo sixteen months ago to study the country with a view to the possible settlement of Italians in that territory, has returned to this city with a remarkable story of his treatment by the authorities of the independent state. The captain asserts that no sooner had he arrived in the Congo country than he was poisoned at the instigation of officials, and only escaped death because being a physician he was able to treat himself. Subsequently, Baccari alleges, the governor general tried to have him locked up as a lunatic. Before leaving, Baccari relates, he entered suit against the governor general for both alleged crimes.

Wound Up With a Dance. St. Louis, Oct. 6.—More than 1,500 representative citizens from Indianapolis, headed by a delegation of 250 of the most prominent business men of that city, members of the Commercial Club, participated yesterday in the celebration of Indianapolis Day at the World's Fair. The exercises at the Indiana state building were concluded last night with a reception and dance.

General Stoessel Reports. St. Petersburg, Oct. 6.—Lieutenant General Stoessel says the Japanese losses were 10,000 during the attacks on Port Arthur from Sept. 19 to Sept. 22. He reports that no incident occurred from Sept. 23 to Sept. 30, excepting outpost skirmishes.

Baseball Games. National League—At Boston, 0; Chicago, 2. American League—At Detroit, 1; Washington, 4. At Chicago, 0; Boston, 2. At St. Louis, 1; New York, 8.

Plans for Payne's Funeral. Washington, Oct. 6.—A committee met at the state department today to plan the details of the funeral of the late Postmaster General Payne. Invitations will be extended to public officials, the diplomatic corps, the judiciary, district officials and friends of the army and navy will be represented. General Chaffee sent his aid to tender a military escort. At the services here about fifty officials of the department, including chiefs of division, will attend the funeral as representatives of the postoffice department.

Strikers Gain Nothing. Chicago, Oct. 6.—Cutters and other members of the United Garment Workers' union, who eight weeks ago went on strike because of an announced "open shop" policy on the part of the Chicago clothing makers, have given up the struggle and the strike has been called off. No question of wages or of hours was involved in the strike, which affected 600 men.

Call For Judicial Republican Convention.

The republicans of the Forty-second judicial district of the State of Indiana will meet in delegate convention at Orleans Ind. on Saturday October 15 1904 at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of nominating a republican candidate for prosecuting attorney of said district. The apportionment of delegates will be the same as that applied to the last republican State convention. Jackson county will be entitled to 11 delegates and 11 Alternates; Orange county will be entitled to 10 delegates and 10 Alternates; Washington county will be entitled to 9 delegates and 9 Alternates, making the total number of delegates 30, necessary to a choice 16.

By order of,

W. H. BURKLEY, Chairman, Jackson County Republican County Committee.

J. P. SWOOP, Chairman, Orange County Republican County Committee.

LEWIS DENNIS, Chairman, Washington County Republican County Committee.

INDEPENDENT VIEW.

The conventions have declared, the the candidates have spoken, and the time draws near when the people must decide. So far the campaign, as conducted by the party organizations, has lagged. There have been in the aggregate many, and of both sides, and more or less interesting "literature" have been distributed. But few of the great party papers have shown the customary partisan favor, and evidences of profound popular interest have been lacking.

Most observers account for the apparent apathy, or at least quiet, of the campaign on the theory that there is no large question clearly and decisively differentiating the two great parties as there has been in recent presidential campaigns. * * *

We can not see that there is anything in the recent Democratic past, or in the Democratic platform, or in the Democratic ticket (weakened as it is by the nomination of an octogenarian for second place) that should induce a Republican, even though not entirely satisfied with Mr. Roosevelt, to abandon his party. * * *

But the independent voter, who cares little for party names and party creeds, whose first thought is good government—what is he to do this year? We are inclined to think that he will let well enough alone; or to put it in another way, that he will rather bear those ills we have than fly to others we know not of, and in this view we think he will be wise. It is not simply a choice between Roosevelt and Fairbanks on one hand and Parker and Davis on the other. But it is one ticket or the other plus the influences and the men behind that ticket. Highly as we respect Mr. Parker, though it must be admitted that the country really knows little about him, we can not ignore the fact that his nomination was engineered by Hill, Belmont, Sheehan and McCarran, men whose political methods and ideals we abominate and that these men, together with Gorman and Taggart, are now the men in control of his campaign. Who can doubt that these men would be among Parker's influential advisers should he be elected?

We have no hesitation in saying that we prefer Roosevelt, with such men as Fairbanks, Hay, Taft and Cannon as his lieutenants. We have criticized many of Mr. Roosevelt's acts. We have no doubt we shall have occasion to criticize others in the future. But we regard an election as a practical question. Which of the two men, taking all things into consideration—their past achievements, their known characteristics, the forces and influences supporting them—is the more likely to give the country good administration? To us, it seems clear that Roosevelt is the man.—Indianapolis News.

HON. ADDISON C. HARRIS, who speaks here next Tuesday night, is one of the ablest lawyers in the middle west. He was minister to Austria under President McKinley's first term. He is a man of large ability and a speaker of great force. No one should miss hearing him.

WHAT Judge Parker as president and John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, as speaker of the house, would do for the old soldier would be asight Parker says he would revoke the pension order that has given thousands of veterans pensions and Williams has always been against pensioning the union soldiers.

A DEMOCRATIC exchange asks: "How will the farmer vote?" The thoughtful farmer will vote for a continuance of the best times he ever experienced. He will not vote for a return of conditions such as he experienced from 1893 to 1897 under a Democratic administration. Some of them who have been classed as Democrats in the past may not say anything about it but nevertheless they will go in the booth on election day and make a cross in the circle surrounding the eagle. They will take no chances this time. The last Democratic administration was enough of that sort of management to last them a lifetime.

Crothersville Fair.

The inter-county fair at Crothersville opened Wednesday under favorable circumstances. The weather was fine and the crowd was large for the first day. The association has a fine ground, a splendid grove and a good half mile track.

The exhibits are very creditable indeed, including horses, cattle, hogs, sheep, poultry, farm products, fruits, fancy work, etc. These exhibits do the patrons of the fair much credit. The racing is going on according to program with A. N. Menden, of this city, as starting judge. He is ably assisted by Thorat Zollman, of Bedford and several horsemen from Kentucky.

In the inter-county trot Wednesday, Petie, driven by Clarence Hopewell, won in straight heats. M. B. W., driven by Mr. Casey, of Salem, was second and Baronwood, driven by Bert Wallace, was third. Best time, 2:42.

DIED.

WEATHERS—Erasmus Weathers died Wednesday night at St. Vincent hospital, Indianapolis, where he went a few weeks ago for treatment. A message announcing his death was sent to W. J. Durham, Thursday morning. Mr. Weathers was about sixty years of age. He was a son of the late Robert Weathers and was born at Brownstown. He had been a resident of Seymour about 35 years. For many years he was a machinist in the O. & M shops and later, for a few years, he was watchman at the Walnut street crossing. At one time he was a member of the city council. He was a Mason and a member of the G. A. R. The remains will arrive from Indianapolis this evening. The funeral will probably be in charge of the Masons, but arrangements will be announced tomorrow.

Shea's Piece.

In the series of political articles published by the Indianapolis Star appears today the contribution of Jos. H. Shea, of this city, along with his picture. Mr. Shea goes from "firstly to lastly", making assertions but produces no argument at all. His assertions are bitterly partisan. After the fashion of Democratic platforms, he uses the word "denounce" frequently. Then he says "turn the rascals out," and when he wrote that, he probably had in mind to write further, "and elect me and my law partner."

Attempt to Destroy Church.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 6.—There was an attempt to destroy the M. E. church building at Decatur, which is being repaired; holes being bored in the sills and filled with powder, while coal oil was thrown about. A fuse made of straw was ignited, but it burned out without reaching the oil, and damage was averted.

Cause of Lockjaw.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is an antiseptic and causes cuts, bruises and like injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by C. W. Milhous.

When You Think About

The pains and aches caused by your eyes, you must not forget that work of this kind is our specialty. That we know the difference between headaches caused by eye strain and the other kind caused by biliousness, catarrh, a worn out stomach, etc. Our guarantee is so broad that our work must be intelligently and knowingly executed, no matter what your physician or any one else may say. Our efforts during the past eleven months speak more loudly than words because our patients have been conscientiously and scientifically treated. If you have a child that comes home daily, complaining about pains in or about the eyes, it is your duty to bring that child to us. We are deserving of your consideration and should have earned your confidence by the manner with which we have handled our hundreds of cases. Your money back, if the work is not satisfactory. #### Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

"My Wife's Family," which was heralded as a farce comedy with musical trimmings, and which opened a week's engagement at the Masonic Theatre last night, justified in the amplest degree all of the expectations, which the large audience might have had. It kept the crowd in a whirl of merriment for three hours, and when the curtain fell the members of the cast were weary with their strenuous efforts to please and the spectators were in a state of semi-exhaustion from excessive laughter.—Louisville Post.

ENTHUSIASTIC SESSIONS

Work of the Convention of Republican League Clubs.

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—The convention of the National Republican League will close tonight with another great mass-meeting at Teimlinson hall, at which Secretary of War Taft and Senator Beveridge will speak. As both are popular speakers, it is expected that the meeting will be as notable as the one last night at which Secretary Shaw of the treasury was the star feature. The Shaw meeting was one of the largest held here in a long time, but the attendance at the regular sessions of the convention has been a disappointment, less than 200 delegates being present from outside the state. The Indiana crowd has not been as large as expected, but the convention has otherwise been successful. A strong appeal was made to the young men of the party in the resolutions offered today. The national ticket and platform were also enthusiastically indorsed. The convention attracted the usual number of party leaders, among them several candidates for nomination on the state ticket two years hence. Among them were John Dyer of Hammond, who is a candidate for state treasurer; Frank Doran of Laporte, a candidate for auditor; Edward Fitzpatrick of Portland, a candidate for clerk of the supreme court; Union Banner Hunt of Winchester, and ex-Attorney General Taylor of this city, candidates for governor four years hence. The convention and the other meetings in progress have furnished a fine field for the Republican leaders to get together on future plans.

Harry S. New, Indiana member of the Republican national committee, who has charge of the Western headquarters at Chicago, returned to the Windy City today and will probably not come back to Indianapolis until he comes to cast his vote. He is very busy at the headquarters and has not been in Indiana for two months, yet he keeps a very close line on the situation. He met a large number of Republican leaders while here, and he stated before his departure that he felt certain that the Republicans have a cinch in Indiana—not only in Indiana, but in the other states in this section of the country. He declared that there is no doubt of the election of President Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks. He conferred with Chairman Goodrich of the state committee and Chairman Smith of the county organization. There has been some complaint because the national committee has not sent as many prominent speakers as were promised in Indiana at the opening of the campaign, but he declared that Indiana will have the best of the committee can produce—and New's friends say that his word is good in the matter, so they are expecting a long list of big guns to be sent to Indiana for the close of the campaign.

It seems probable from the developments during the meeting of the State Bankers' association yesterday and today, that it is going to be very difficult to enact a law at the coming session of the legislature for state supervision of private banks, although Governor Durbin, Addison C. Harris, ex-minister to Austria, and other notable and influential men, favor such legislation. The private bankers don't propose to give up without a struggle, it seems, although they realize that there is a growing sentiment in favor of bank supervision. It is said that many of them feel that it will be better to get together and frame an equitable law than to have the legislature act on a lot of bills that are sure to come up; yet there are a number of very influential private bankers who don't want the present conditions disturbed. It was expected that the present convention of the state bankers would adopt a strong resolution favoring supervision of private banks, but when it convened today it was the understanding that the matter would not be touched.

Many Mothers of a Like Opinion.
Mrs. Pilmer of Cordova, Iowa, says: "One of my children was subject to croup of a severe type, and the giving of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy promptly, always brought relief. Many mothers in this neighborhood think the same as I do about this remedy and want no other kind for their children." For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

Blood is essentially the fluid of life. It permeates every portion of the body to the remotest tips of the members. Any poisonous or diseased particles that enter into the blood are scattered throughout the entire system and infect all its parts. They are transmitted to succeeding generations and cause disease indefinitely.

BRYAN'S PLANS

After This Campaign He Will Resume His Old Story.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 6.—William Jennings Bryan, in a letter to the Democratic state committee declining to visit Ohio during the present campaign, says: "While Judge Parker announces himself as unqualifiedly in favor of the gold standard, he is no more objectionable upon this question than President Roosevelt, and he does stand for many things in which the silver Democrats are interested. The election of Parker and Davis would remove from the arena of politics the questions which stand in the way of the consideration of economic questions, and for this reason I believe that every Democrat who supported the ticket in 1896 and 1900 should interest himself in the success of the ticket this year."

"When the election is over I want to renew the fight for economic reform, and I believe that we will be in better position to do this with Judge Parker elected than with Roosevelt at the head of the nation. It is also important to secure congress, for without the house of representatives the president could not carry out his policies."

Important Church Meeting.

Boston, Oct. 6.—The Archbishop of Canterbury and bishops from many parts of the world attended the opening session of the general triennial convention of the Episcopal church here. The English primate was last in a long procession of dignitaries which passed up the broad aisle of Trinity church, where opening service was held in the presence of an immense congregation. He recited one of the prayers in the office of holy communion and read the gospel. The celebrant was the Rt. Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle of Missouri, bishop coadjutor of Montreal, and the preacher, Bishop William Doane of Albany, N. Y.

Cruel Crime at Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 6.—Minnie Harkening, fifteen years of age, was choked to death by an unknown assailant in a barn on her father's premises on the outskirts of the city late yesterday afternoon. The girl, who had been left alone in charge of three small children, visited the barn, and when she did not return after an absence of ten minutes, the other children followed her to the barn and found her dead body lying on the floor. She had been cruelly beaten and abused before being strangled. There is no clue to the murderer.

One of the visitors here today was Robert Miller of Bloomington, prosecuting attorney of Monroe and Lawrence counties. He had charge of the investigation of the famous Sarah Schaefer murder mystery at Bedford last winter and of the trial of McDonald, who was acquitted. He said today that the investigation has been dropped so far as the two counties are concerned, and that he does not believe the mystery will ever be solved unless someone confesses.

EYEWITNESS TO MURDER

Testimony Corroborates the Claim of the Defendant.

Corydon, Ind., Oct. 6.—Stanton Arnold, son of "Squire William Arnold," was an eyewitness to the killing of James Dalton by Samuel Jones at Fairdale, and his story corroborates the claim of the defendant that he acted in self-defense. Arnold saw the two men on the roadway, Dalton walking rapidly and overtaking Jones. As the men came within range Dalton raised his hand, indicating that he was armed, whereupon Jones fired one barrel of his shotgun. Dalton ran a short distance and stopped, and again raised his hand, whereupon Jones fired a second time and Dalton fell dead. There had been ill-feeling between the principals since two years ago, at which time Dalton shot and seriously wounded Jones. Usually Dalton never passed the Jones home without someone accompanying him. Last Friday he walked by unattended but armed. He was formerly a saloon keeper at Fairdale, but sold out and engaged in farming. Dalton was the father of eleven children, eight of whom survive. Jones is still in jail, accused of murder, while William and Angeline Jones are held as accessories.

Two Peacemakers Shot.

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 6.—While acting as peacemakers in a quarrel that might have ended in murder, John Carroll and James Butler were wounded by a shotgun in the hands of Archie Blair, at Hartsville. Blair and Blaine Peck engaged in a fight in this city and the quarrel was renewed when the men returned to Hartsville. Blair got a shotgun and started after Peck when Carroll and Butler saw him and took the weapon from him. During the struggle the gun was discharged and both Carroll and Butler were struck by some of the shot. The wounds are not serious.

Cow Drags Woman Through Street.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 6.—Mrs. James McCullen, sixty-five years old, was dangerously injured by being dragged through the streets by a cow. She was leading the animal to a watering trough when the cow became frightened and ran away. The woman held to the rope, which became fastened around her ankle, tripping her. She was dragged seventy-five yards through the street. One arm was broken and one hip dislocated.

Baptists Meet at Shelbyville.

Shelbyville, Ind., Oct. 6.—Baptists from every county in the state are in this city to attend the meeting of the Indiana Baptist State association. The attendance this year is perhaps the greatest in the history of the association. The main street Baptist church, where the sessions are being held, was crowded to the doors when the Rev. T. J. Villiers of Indianapolis, president of the association, opened the convention.

Indiana Pearl King.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 6.—John Guller, the "pearl king of the Wabash," is in the city exhibiting his collection of pearls. During the year Guller sold pearls amounting to $2,500, all of which he found himself. The greatest single sale was for $750. The largest of his finds is estimated to be worth in excess of $1,000. This pearl Mr. Guller has deposited in bank, and he is holding it for $1,500.

Horse Stolen at Rochester.

Rochester, Ind., Oct. 6.—Dr. J. L. Babcock hitched his two-year-old filly, record 2:25, and valued at $700, to a post and stepped into his office for a minute. When he returned the animal was gone and there is no trace. Horse-thief detective associations have been called out in every direction.

An Interesting Excursion.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 6.—There will be a state-wide farmers' excursion to Purdue University Tuesday, Oct. 11. The feature of special interest for the occasion will be an inspection of the experiment station and school of agriculture.

KIDNEY DISEASES CAUSE ONE-THIRD OF THE TOTAL DEATHS.

When the Kidneys fail to perform their functions properly by not straining out the poisonous waste matter from the blood as it passes through them, the poisons are carried by the circulation to every part of the body, deranging the different organs. This causes heart trouble, stomach trouble, sluggish liver and a host of other ills, all due to deranged Kidneys.
